Chandrababu's arrest gives TDP impetus to form anti-Jagan alliance

LIZ MATHEW
New Delhi, September 17

IT MAY BE too early to predict if Telugu Desam Party (TDP) president N Chandrababu Naidu's arrest will help it turn the tide in Andhra Pradesh politics. But it appears to have changed many a thing for the Opposition party that had failed to launch a massive offensive against the YS Jagan Mohan Reddy-led government till now.

Finding Naidu in Rajahmundry Central Prison has not only spurred his son Nara Lokesh into action, but it has also raised the level of optimism among the cadre and given the party fresh hope in its efforts to stitch together a formidable coalition that can take on Jagan's Yuva Jana Sramika Rythu Congress Party (YSRCP).

BJP and TDP insiders said actor-politician Pawan Kalyan's public declaration of the tie-up, Lokesh landed in the national capital. In his words, the TDP leader was in Delhi "to explain the injustice that has happened to Naidu". The former CM has been arrested in the multi-crore AP Skill Development Corporation scam. "My purpose of coming to Delhi is to explain to Indians the injustice that has happened to Chandrababu Naidu. He worked with Siemens on this project, a project to train the youth of Andhra Pradesh to give them jobs. Does that man deserve to be sent to judicial remand?" he asked during a conversation are still in the discussion stage, no final decision has been taken," said a source in the BJP.

TDP chief N Chandrababu Naidu being taken to prison in Vijayawada. The arrest has spurred his son into action. PTI

Immediately after Pawan Kalyan's public declaration of the tie-up, Lokesh landed in the national capital. In his words, the TDP leader was in Delhi "to explain the injustice that has happened to Naidu".

The former CM has been arrested in the multi-crore AP Skill Development Corporation scam. "My purpose of coming to Delhi is to explain to Indians the injustice that has happened to Chandrababu Naidu. He worked with Siemens on this project, a project to train the youth of Andhra Pradesh to give them jobs. Does that man deserve to be sent to judicial remand?" he asked during a conversation with The Indian Express. He said the project that started in 2015 continued to operate during the tenure of the Jagan government, which came to power in 2019.

With a section of BJP leaders apprehensive that an alliance with the TDP will not prove to be advantageous for the party — the BJP is keen on mustering the support of multiple parties ahead of the Lok Sabha elections and believes that the YSCP is much stronger than the Opposition in Andhra — Lokesh said his father was arrested because the TDP had been going from strength to strength. TDP leaders admitted that the party was lagging in the poll surveys before the arrest but had gained momentum since Naidu's arrest.

Lokesh linked the arrest to his statewide "Yuva Galam (Voice of the Youth)" padayatra, which covered 86 of the 175 Assembly constituencies. "Otherwise why would the former CM be arrested? We were in the field to take our manifesto to the people. There was a huge momentum that was built at my padayatra ... Jagan wanted to stop that momentum."

He also countered the argument that the TDP had failed to make a deep impact as the primary Opposition party to the YSRCP, which seemingly continues to enjoy popular support for its welfare schemes.

The TDP scion pointed out that the party recently won all the Graduate MLC constituencies in the legislative council elections earlier this year. "If the TDP has no impact, why has Naidu been arrested now? Why does Lokesh have multiple cases, including a murder case against him? Close to 1,000 leaders of ours are in jail. Of course, there is resentment among people, there is fear among people. There is strong anti-incumbency."

Lokesh also said, "Talking about welfare schemes, the TDP did no less. It is part of the society in Andhra. But you have to give jobs, power, and water, and the economy has to be strong. There is an economic distress in the state. The state is third in number of farmers suicide. No company comes to Andhra Pradesh while many are leaving the state."

British-era hotel in Mussoorie destroyed in fire

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
Dehradun, September 17

A MASSIVE FIRE broke out at Sidus Rink Hotel in Mussoorie on Sunday morning, damaging the property and two parked cars before fire tenders could control the blaze. No injuries were reported in the incident.

According to police officers, renovation work was going on at the multistorey hotel because of which it was closed for guests. Three-four workers who were resting inside the hotel escaped unhurt. The hotel owner, who was also inside the building at the time of fire, was brought out safely by fire brigade and police team by breaking a window.

"The fire started around 4 am and soon engulfed the entire hotel. Two cars parked nearby caught fire and were completely charred. The fire tenders soon reached the spot and stopped the fire from spreading to other buildings. Prima facie it appears that the fire started due to an electrical short circuit," said Shankar Singh Bisht, SHO, Mussoorie police station.

The Sidus Rink Hotel, built in 1890 during the British era, is one of the biggest hotels in Mussoorie. It is suspected that the fire spread very fast as a lot of wood had been used in the interiors of the hotel.

Fire officials said the cause of the fire is not known yet. By the time the fire tenders arrived, the blaze had spread to the entire hotel. Many ITBP water tankers also arrived. The fire was completely doused by around 2 pm.

Chhattisgarh Cong MLA seen with bundles of cash in video

A VIDEO OF a Congress MLA from Chhattisgarh purportedly sitting in front of bundles of cash has triggered a row with the BJP raising allegations of "corruption" in the state whereas the legislator in question said it was a conspiracy to malign his image.

Chhattisgarh BJP general secretary OP Choudhary on Sunday shared this video on his social media handle claiming Congress has made Chhattisgarh a den of corruption.

The video clip shows MLA Ramkumar Yadav sitting on a sofa placed beside a bed where bundles of cash are kept. Another man is seen sitting along with Yadav, while the face of a third person sitting beside the cash on bed is not seen.

"Will Congress accept this video in which bundles of notes are placed in front of its MLA or if it has any doubt over the video, will it show the courage to hand over the matter to CBI for investigation?" Choudhary wrote on X.

MLA Ramkumar Yadav said the video was a conspiracy to malign his image. "I was just sitting there and something was being told to me. It seems it was posted just to malign my image as I come from a poor family," he claimed.

Santiniketan inscribed on World Heritage List

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 17

long to get a UNESCO tag for this cultural site located in Birbhum district.

The decision to include

Santiniketan in the list was taken during the 45th session of the World Heritage Committee currently underway in Saudi Arabia.

West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee said she was glad and proud that Santiniketan has finally been included in the UNESCO World Heritage List.

"Biswa Bangla's pride, Santiniketan was nurtured by the poet and has been supported by people of Bengal over the generations. We from the Government of West Bengal have significantly added to its infrastructure in last 12 years and the world now recognizes the glory of the heritage place. Kudos to all who love

"We had worked on the dossier in 2009 and, maybe time wasn't right then, but we always believed in the beauty of Santiniketan, and today we feel vindicated seeing it in the UNESCO list," she told PTI.
